

BLOUNT COUNTY

The Blount County Children's Center is focused on preventing child abuse, helping victims and strengthening families. The highly trained professional staff utilizes a low-stress team approach to investigation, lessening the risk of re-traumatizing the child. Children and non-offending family members receive free therapy. The organization also conducts school-based prevention programs and works to spread awareness about preventing, recognizing and reporting child abuse throughout the community.

111,695 Blount County residents were served by United Way of Central Alabama funding.*

6,014 youth served by Blount County Children's Center through social-emotional learning activities and programs.

146 students served through Blount County Education Foundation Dreamcatcher Summer Program resulting in a seven-month gain in reading and a three-month gain in math proficiency.

50+ Blount County Schools students served through the Central Alabama Children's Fund to support basic needs so children can thrive in school.
